PORTSMOUTH

COUNTY SEAT OF NORFOLK COUNTY

Fourth city in the State in point of population and occupies a location naturally fitted for a great city on the western shores of the great harbor of Norfolk-Portsmouth eight miles from Hampton Roads and 200 miles from Washington. Being situated on the mainland side of the larger water courses with no draw-bridges and navigable streams to cross it is looked upon as ideally the great seaport city of the middle Atlantic states.

Population: (1870) 10,590, (1880) 11,390, (1890) 13,268, (1900) 17,427, (1910) 33,190, (1915) 39,561. The composition and characteristics of the population follow—Native parentage, white, 55.3%, Native white, foreign or mixed parentage, 7%, Foreign born, 5.7%, Native white illiterate 1%, Foreign born illiterate 7.9%, Negro per cent illiterate 23.1%. Color and sex percentage—White 67%, Negro 33%, Males 57%, Females 43%. Of the foreign born inhabitants 359 came from Russia, 153 from Italy, 136 from Ireland, 138 from Germany, 101 from England, &c., 22 foreign countries are represented.

Government: Is vested in a council of seven (7) elected by the people regardless of Ward lines. The chairman of the council is in all respects Mayor, excepting he is without the power to veto. This council elects a manager for an indeterminate period, whose tenure of office is dependent upon getting satisfying results, he being the executive officer of the council—general manager so to speak of the city.

Finances: Real estate and personal property valuations total $15,297,507 which together with railroad property assessments and the government holdings bring the total to $32,297,507. The city assets are $221,435.49 in excess of liabilities, as shown by the Treasurer's last statement. Included in the assets is the ferry privileges and plant—Portsmouth being half owner and receives an annual rental from the lessees of $67,600. Portsmouth has many loan and financial institutions of various kinds and four banks, one national, with a capital of $311,500, deposits of $4,000,000, and resources exceeding $7,500,000.

Parks: The most important of Portsmouth's pleasant grounds is the Naval Hospital Park almost in the heart of the city. It is bounded by the harbor on one side and the city on the other, comprises nearly 80 acres, and has two miles of automobile drives, bridle roads and a mile of foot walks and pavements. About half the area is woodland, in which the pine predominates, while many trees, shrubs and vines adorn the remaining grounds, with spaces reserved for tennis courts and base ball diamonds.

Water and Light: The water supply is one of the best in the State, and is drawn from a series of lakes 22 miles distant. After being sand filtered it is brought to the city in two underground conduits to a huge reservoir of 750,000 gallons and a 100 ft. standpipe capacity 530,000 gallons; thence it is distributed throughout the city by means of some 82 miles of underground iron pipes. Daily consumption 4,000,000 gallons. Daily capacity 13,000,000 gallons. The streets and buildings have a dual system of lighting—by gas and electricity—the main thoroughfare however has a most attractive style of cluster lights extending for over a mile through the busy part of the city.

Streets and Sewers: The old part of the city is laid out with mathematical precision every other street, north and south, running in parallel lines and laid off in broad straight avenues, with cross streets very regular and at right angles, which is in contrast with much of the territory that has since been annexed to the city. The streets in the new additions in many instances are irregular at intervals and follow the shape of the tract rather than the continuity of the streets. 20 miles of storm sewers and 26 miles of sanitary sewers together with 15 miles of house laterals and a double collateral tile soil drain, comprises the system that is employed, which is worked by compressed air discharging the effluent at the rate of 40,000 gallons per minute.

Education: The system of public education embraces the best in use throughout the larger cities of the country—manual training, mechanical drawing, sewing, cooking and commercial courses. 15 schools with 5,127 pupils and 126 well trained teachers represent the school system which is maintained at an approximate cost of $100,000 annually.

Institutions: King's Daughters' Hospital, The Portsmouth Public Library, Young Men's Christian Association, Home for the Aged, The Portsmouth Orphan Asylum, The Portsmouth Business Men's Association and the colored Old Folks and Orphans Home.

Churches: Portsmouth has 56 places of worship and 61 preachers and nearly 17,000 communicants or members, with church property valued at nearly $1,500,000. The following ecclesiastical bodies are represented here—Baptist, Methodist, Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Congregational, Friends, Hebrew, Seventh Day Adventists, Disciples or Christians, Church of God, Holiness bodies and Salvation Army.

Travel and Transportation: The South's three larger trunk lines have their terminals in Portsmouth, and transfer freight and passengers by ferry to Norfolk—these are the Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and Seaboard Air Line Railway. General domestic travel is facilitated by the centering in this harbor of five other roads and numerous steamship and steamboat lines, while foreign transportation is represented by many of the great transatlantic lines. The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk R. R. (Penna. System), Norfolk and Western R. R., Chesapeake & Ohio Ry., Virginian Ry., and Norfolk Southern have terminals on the harbor, and all of them whether their terminals are in Portsmouth or not have physical connection via the Norfolk & Portsmouth Belt Line. This connecting link is "The Line that made Portsmouth Famous," by making possible a quick interchange of freight between the eight railroads, and twenty or more steamer lines, and incidentally building up a manufacturing zone. Portsmouth has electric railways running the length of the city on the principal thoroughways, and cross town lines, and extending out into the following thriving suburban villages—Pinners Point, Port Norfolk, West Haven, Prentis Park, Piedmont Heights, Taylorsville, and Mount Hermon. The lines cover 31 miles of urban and interurban trackage, and hauled 4,752,109 passengers last year.

Commerce: It is estimated by the U. S. Government authorities that the value of the traffic passing through this harbor during fiscal year approximated $2,042,335,814 and represented 21,712,166 short tons. Coal, cotton, fertilizer, forest and agricultural products, general merchandise, cotton seed oil products and many bi-products of the factories together with peanuts went to make up the tonnage. 657,567 bales of cotton were received during the year and upwards of 15,000,000 tons of coal were dumped at the Hampton Roads coal piers, while 4,706,124 packages of garden vegetables, valued at $12,000,000 were shipped to the northern markets. 1,279,253 barrels of potatoes and 849,382 barrels of spinach were the two larger items of vegetables. Customs figures to June 30th, 1915, show exports for the year $19,082,427 and imports $3,560,588, and the number of vessels that cleared totaled 3,591 of which 1,608 were in the foreign trade and 1,983 coastwise. Palatial steamers with daily sailings for Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Richmond make a fleet of vessels that carry besides passengers a large tonnage of general merchandise in the course of a year.

Manufacturers: 75 manufacturing concerns representing 42 industries have sprung up within a comparative short period, due to a manufacturing zone that followed the building of the Norfolk & Portsmouth Belt Line Railroad. This connecting line of five miles, dotted with switches and manufacturing plants, skirts the suburbs of Portsmouth, and requires the services of seven train crews to handle the switching and distributing of about 1,000 car loads of freight daily. Cotton seed oil products, soap for textile purposes, talcum powder, creosoted conduits, underwear, hosiery, excelsior, butter dishes, copper pigs (smelting), mattresses, tables, cotton seed hull products, paper boxes, blotting paper, truck packages, box shooks, dyeing, bagging, agricultural lime, &c., are among the items of 42 that are manufactured in the Portsmouth District.

Historical: Portsmouth was named after or rather for the city of that name in England. One of its notable features is the Navy Yard known officially as the Norfolk Navy Yard, although situated almost in the heart of the city. Built by the British in the 18th century, it was purchased by the U. S. in 1801. Burned by the Federals in 1861, it was rebuilt by the Confederates and held by them until Portsmouth was reoccupied by the Federals near the close of the war. In this connection a little matter of historical interest may be noted. At different times since this spot has been used as a ship yard five flags have been unfurled over its destiny, viz.—British, Colonies, Virginia, Confederate and United States. It is now the most important and the largest in the U. S., occupies 350 acres, and has three large dry docks, two of granite and one of timber, and a still larger one recommended by Naval Boards, and the Secretary of the Navy which it is expected will be built in the near future. In addition to shipbuilding and repairing war vessels, this station has been augmented by a Training Station, a Naval Magazine and a series of immense buildings as headquarters of the U. S. Marine Corps. The total cost to date of the Government holdings in the Portsmouth District approximate $20,000,000, while it requires from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually for the maintenance, upkeep and improvements constantly found necessary. The U. S. Naval Hospital was founded in 1828. In 1907 President Roosevelt unveiled a monument in the Hospital cemetery and there is a tablet in the pavement on High street commemorating the visit of La Fayette to this city in 1825. Grover Cleveland lived in this city when his father was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.
